

INTEREX

February 9, 1993

Dear INTEREX member,

In March, INTEREX will launch a new magazine, hp-ux/usr, designed specifically for HP-UX end users and administrators in both multi-user and workstation environments.

hp-ux/usr, a bimonthly publication to be mailed to all members who receive Interact and to identified HP-UX users, will provide "hands-on" solutions to day-to-day hardware, software, and operating system problems. It will examine big picture issues such as systems integration, networks, and distributed computing, and offer a close-up look at solutions to specific problems.

The impetus for launching hp-ux/usr is the sheer growth of HP-UX. Hewlett-Packard is continually expanding and upgrading its HP-UX products. The company is moving aggressively to widen its role in the "business UNIX" market; at the same time, sales of 9000 workstations in commercial markets continue to increase. INTEREX reflects this growing HP-UX constituency; membership in the HP-UX category is up almost 50 percent over last year. The INTEREX board and staff felt that a new, HP-UX-specific magazine best served the burgeoning HP-UX membership and marketplace.

The subscription to hp-ux/usr is part of your INTEREX membership.

The magazine serves readers at all levels of expertise, from the novice floundering in a sea of complicated commands and arcane procedures to the systems administrator grappling with a huge network embracing hundreds of users. Writers are experienced HP-UX users and technical experts from Hewlett-Packard.

Comments and suggestions about hp-ux/usr are most welcome. HP-UX users are encouraged to submit articles to Michael Ehrhardt, the editor.

The magazine is for users, by users. Its success depends on the continued interest of the INTEREX membership.

Sincerely,

Chuck Piercy
Executive Director

Richard Rasmusson
Director of Communications

Michael Ehrhardt
hp-ux/usr Editor

You're up and running on HP-UX...

Now you need:

The best shortcut, an elegant coding solution, the lowdown, and that one little piece of information they left out of the manual.

There's only one source: hp-ux/usr.

hp-ux/usr is a new bimonthly magazine with "hands-on" solutions for HP-UX users' day-to-day hardware, software, and operating system problems.

hp-ux/usr is a forum for HP-UX users. You won't find promises or hype in hp-ux/usr. Our mission is to help users like you with practical advice and detailed solutions.

You can look to hp-ux/usr for the lowdown on:

- New Products ■ HP-UX
- Networking ■ UNIX
- Systems Integration

In each issue, hp-ux/usr will take a close look at solutions to specific user problems—providing step-by-step advice and detailed coding examples from experienced HP-UX users with a real understanding of your concerns.

Subscribe to hp-ux/usr.
Call 1-800-468-3739 today.

The magazine written by HP-UX users for HP-UX users

hp-ux/usr is a bimonthly publication of INTEREX, the International Association of Hewlett-Packard Computer Users. INTEREX is a membership association offering publications, conferences, and an extensive contributed HP-UX software library. A complimentary subscription to hp-ux/usr is included with membership. For membership or subscription information call 1-800-INTEREX ext. 229 or 230 (U.S. and Canada) or 408-747-0227 (International).